TRUE PITCH® GAME MOUNDS

All True Pitch® Mounds have a reinforced fiberglass base covered with green, copper (red clay), tan, or terracotta (orange clay), or tan color Nylon AstroTurf®.

TRUE PITCH® Portable Pitcher's Mounds are approved for official game use for Senior League, Babe Ruth, Pony, Bronco, Little League, Dixie Youth, and Cal Ripken. TRUE PITCH® Portable Mounds have been used, tested and approved at the National Little League headquarters in Williamsport, Pennsylvania and are the only portable mounds approved for use in official games.

TRUE PITCH® Portable Pitcher's Mounds have patented tapered edges - no lip or edge around perimeter - for smooth mound to field transition. Made to official dimensions, they are manufactured with reinforced fiberglass base and heavy-duty green, copper, tan or terracotta 60 oz. knitted nylon AstroTurf®. All types of cleats can be used on these mounds; however plastic or rubber cleats are recommended, since metal cleats will cause faster turf wear. If using metal cleats, optional ice hockey grade rubber is available underneath turf to prevent damage to fiberglass. Ice hockey grade rubber is standard on all 10" and 8" game mounds between the fiberglass surface and the AstroTurf® extending from 6" behind pitcher's plate to front lip. Pitcher's plates are bolted to reinforced fiberglass frame with three 5/8" bolts, except 318 -G includes 4-way pitcher's rubber that fits into box in frame.

Using TRUE PITCH® Portable Pitcher's Mounds makes it easy to convert your field from softball to baseball in minutes and cleanup is a snap! Just hose it down after the game.

TRUE PITCH® Portable Pitcher's Mounds allow for batting practice pitching, bullpen pitching and actual game pitching from the same identical mound and because True Pitch® portable pitcher mounds are made to official dimensions and are wider than other portable mounds, they make pick off moves comparable to these from a regulation clay mound.

TRUE PITCH® Portable Pitcher's Mounds provide

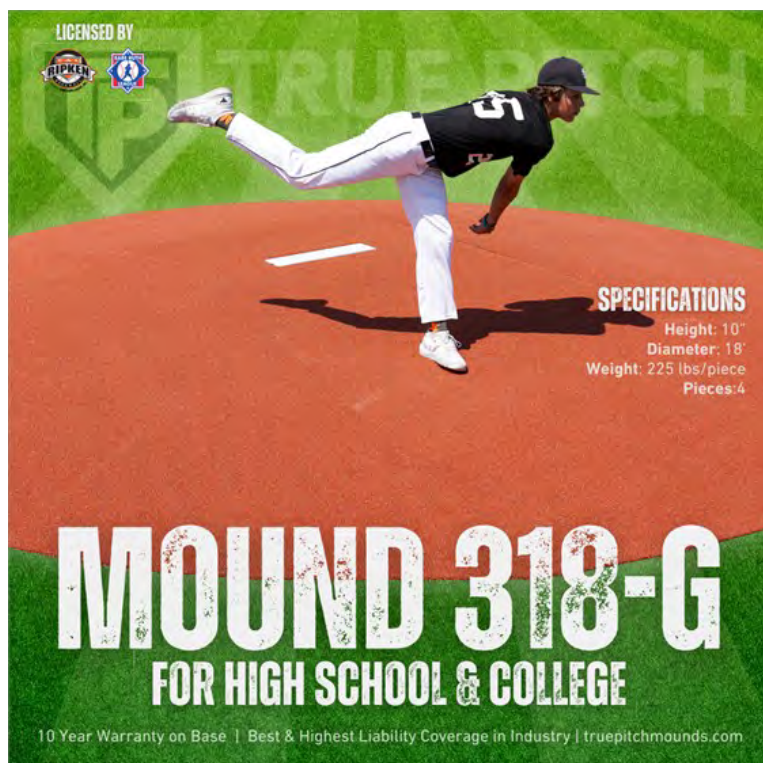

- mounds at the right distance from home plate (for all age groups organized league baseball)
- the exact regulation pitching mound height (6", 8", 10")
- a mound for both games AND practice (approved and recommended by trainers)
- easy movement from diamond to diamond, park to park
- an ideal pitching mound in (or after) any weather
- no sand or rubber infill needed or recommended.
- 10-year limited warranty for fiberglass shell.

TRUE PITCH MOUNDS*A FATHER'S DREAM BECOMES REALITY FOR GENERATIONS OF BASEBALL PLAYERS

In 1962, John Goeders watched his son's Des Moines Iowa Little League team lose a championship game. His son pitched from a baseball mound for the first time. Every pitch was wild. You see, his son was used to practicing on a flat surface and simply could not hit the strike zone during the championship game. John concluded that his son's team loss was due to a lack of consistency between practice pitching and actual game pitching. Determined to test his theory, he decided to develop a portable pitching mound for practice, which also replicated actual game mound pitching experience. True Pitch® was born. John developed several models of fiberglass pitching mounds and tested them at high schools and colleges throughout his native state of Iowa to great results and demand. He received his first mound patent in 1966. John continued to refine his mounds and in 1972 earned a coveted endorsement from Little League Baseball®.

Today, Altoona Iowa-based True Pitch mounds are used in tournament play and on ballfields around the world. The company is headed by Greg Goeders, who assumed leadership from his dad, Dennis, the son whose team lost the Little League championship game in 1962. Considered by many the portable mound industry pioneer, True Pitch holds 40 patents on various products. The company offers a product line of 10 portable game and practice mounds. True Pitch mounds have been endorsed by Bob Feller, the Cleveland Indians pitching legend, as well as Pee Wee Reese, the 10-time All-Star Baseball player and Hall of Famer. True Pitch products were also featured in the major motion picture film, Field of Dreams starring Academy Award® winner Kevin Costner.

True Pitch mound products are the only portable mounds currently licensed by Little League® for official game use. True Pitch mounds are also the only mounds approved for official game use by Babe Ruth League as well as other noted baseball organizations including Pony Baseball and Dixie Youth Baseball.

John Goeders passed away in 2013. He saw his dream fulfilled of creating products to help perfect the pitch of baseball players, and leaves a legacy that will impact the game of baseball for generations to come.
